SMALL CATTLE FOR SMALL FARMS

With a whole new generation making a Tree Change, the majority who have very little experience or a family history of farming, SMALL CATTLE FOR SMALL FARMS is the essential handbook for this growing market to help make that transition. Margo Hayes, who came from a rural background, offers a succinct laypersons guide to the basics of raising small cattle and brings a written down elsewhere. The book’s format is unique in that it actually answers real questions asked by Margo’s clients over the years. Margo has developed Vitulus Lowline & RedLine Stud into one of the nations most successful exhibitors both in the Royal show ring and more recently in the carcass arena winning Grand Champion Carcass at the Royal Brisbane Show 2007.

SMALL CATTLE FOR SMALL FARMS details what breeds are available and explains as simply as possible the basics of selecting stock, along with feeding, shelter, and husbandry guidelines. The book also covers animal behaviour, breeding and calving, nutrition, identification methods, showing, marketing, government regulations as well as some essential tips for those wanting to produce quality beef.
